DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

2. Claims 1 and 3-8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Nishi et al (US 6,677,101 B2)

The applied reference has a common inventor with the instant application.

Based upon the earlier effective U.S. filing date of the reference, it constitutes prior art under 35 U.S.C. 102(e). This rejection under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) might be overcome either by a showing under 37 CFR 1.132 that any invention disclosed but not claimed in the reference was derived from the inventor of this application and is thus not the invention "by another," or by an appropriate showing under 37 CFR 1.131.

Nishi's Polymer 2, which is shown in col.52, lines 1-20, has the following structure;

, and thus Nishi teaches present inventions of claims 1 and 3-6: the first repeat unit of the polymer shown above is made from the ester compound of the present formula (1) wherein present A¹ is norbornene moiety (which is a polymerizable functional group having a carbon-to-carbon double bond), present R¹ and R² are both methyl groups, present A² is oxanorbornanediyl group, and present R³ is H. Also, the third repeat unit of the polymer shown above teaches present recurring unit of the formula (M13) wherein Y' is -O-. In Example I-2 (see Table 1), Nishi teaches a resist composition containing the polymer shown above. After spin-coating the resist composition onto a silicon wafer and heat-treating at 110°C for 90 seconds, Nishi expose the silicon wafer to KrF excimer laser stepper, heat-treat at 110°C for 90 seconds, and then develops for 60 seconds to form a resist pattern (see col.55, lines 55-67, col.56, lines 48-62). Therefore, Nishi teaches present inventions of claims 7 and 8.

Allowable Subject Matter

3. Claim 2 is objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims. Nishi et al does not teach or suggest present ester compound of formula (2) of claim 2.
